First Reunion of the NEW 96TH Infantry Division Deadeye Association to be Held in Denver

The 2006 reunion/meeting of the new 96TH Infantry Division Deadeye Association will be held this summer in Denver, Colorado during the week of July 26-30. This event will honor the efforts of all Deadeyes who have worn or are wearing the Double Diamond patch.

Members of the 96th Regional Readiness Command and their families are invited and encouraged to attend all events.

The gathering, at the Doubletree Hotel in downtown Denver, will be an opportunity for all generations to perpetuate the legacy of the 96th Deadeyes and to learn about the past, present and future services of the US Army soldier. Classic Reunion will be on hand to take single or group photos and will offer a picture Directory.

USO Committee Needs Your Help...

The USO Welcome Night Committee needs your help in preparing a play for and about the 96TH men's and women's experiences from the day they enlisted to the day they were back at home and getting their lives back in order. If you have any memories about any of these events that would enlighten and hopefully educate the second and third generations, please send them AT ONCE by email or regular mail to the USO Welcome Night Committee. We would like the information to be stories that you would share with a pal or a grandchild. Remember, the only way we can pass on the information, about training, the ships, food, mail, laundry and friendships between the men, and any other non-battle information, is for you to tell us! Any short note or memory would help us. Thank you!

Mary Eleanor Wood Smith and Harriet Nichols email address: deadeyes4445@yahoo.com, Ann Moroz's email address is deadeyemk@wmconnect.com. Written or taped messages can be sent to Mary Eleanor Wood Smith at 2104 Slash Court, North Augusta, SC 29841.

Also, we need your help to continue USO family activities at the 2006 reunion and to help keep your Deadeye Dispatch coming. To raise funds for this, we are planning a Silent Auction and a "Bucket" Raffle in Denver.

Please bring or send a "Love Gift," (something special to you, new or old, that others would purchase) and/or an item for the raffle. Send your gifts to : Mary Eleanor Wood Smith, 2104 Slash Court, North Augusta, South Carolina 29841.

And... do you have a laptop computer? Bring it to Denver. The USO room can always use more computers for a variety of purposes. So we want to invite any technical gurus in our outfit to bring their laptop computers with them.

Our theme this year is PEPETUATE THE LEGACY. We need all men and women coming to the reunion to bring a picture of their Company from the past. We want to scan these pictures at the reunion and put them on a bulletin board. This way, the new association can have a visual of the past and present 96th.

Deadeyes Answer the Call to Duty

Major General Peter S. Cooke
96TH Infantry Division Deadeye Association

"Deadeyes", both past and present, are part of an honored tradition of soldiers that have answered the Call to Duty. The Call to Duty springs from the Nobility of Service—the Warrior Ethos and Army Values that have been handed down to us throughout the history of this great nation. It is the legacy of those who have gone before—the many thousands of soldiers who have answered the call from the earliest days of the Revolution, on through all the dark times when freedom has been lost to oppression, when people have cried out for rescue from tyranny. The Call to Duty binds us to our service and guides the course of action we take as guardians, as defenders of freedom, for this great country of ours.

In the terrible winter of 1776, enlistments in the Revolutionary Army were ending and the fate of a fledgling nation appeared uncertain. Urging soldiers to continue to fight for freedom, Thomas Paine wrote his own moving call to duty: "These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands by it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman." The Welcome Home Warrior-Citizen ceremony was created to demonstrate the thanks we have for those that did not shrink in this time of crisis. It was developed to honor, in a small measure, soldiers who have willingly answered their nation's call to war.

The 96th Regional Readiness Command has its own unique history of soldiers that have willingly answered the Call, of which you are a part. Over the years, thousands of soldiers from the 96th have been deployed to fight in various campaigns. During the Okinawa campaign, a technical sergeant displayed conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the Call of Duty. When a powerfully conducted predawn Japanese counterattack struck Sergeant Beauford T. Anderson's unit's flank, he ordered his men to take cover in an old tomb, and then, armed only with a carbine, faced the onslaught alone. After emptying one magazine at pointblank range into the screaming attacker, he seized an enemy mortar dud and threw it back among the charging Japanese, killing several as it burst. Securing a box of mortar shells, he extracted the safety pins, banged the bases upon a rock to arm them and proceeded alternately to hurl shells and fire his piece among the fanatical foe, finally forcing them to withdraw. Despite the protests of his comrades, and bleeding profusely from a severe shrapnel wound, he made his way to his company commander to report the action. Technical Sergeant Anderson's intrepid conduct in the face of overwhelming odds accounted for 25 enemy killed and several machineguns and knee mortars destroyed, thus single-handedly removing a serious threat to a company's flank.

Now in 2006, we are an army at war for a nation at war. Since the terrorist attacks of September 11th, US Army soldiers have participated in a determined and relentless campaign to defeat enemies who challenge our way of life. This is a new reality that soldiers understand all too well: since 9/11, American soldiers have witnessed more than a battalion's worth of their comrades killed in action, more than a brigade's worth severely wounded. Their sacrifices in the Global War on Terror have liberated more than 46 million people, but this is not all. The Army Reserve plays a unique role in this campaign; we are citizen soldiers, and as such, we do not just do our military jobs, but we donate our time and energy to the civilian community as well.

I agree with Thomas Paine that every man and woman who risks their life for freedom, for something greater than oneself, is a hero. And I am so proud that I am a part of the ranks of men and women who created a country during the Revolution, who freed a people from slavery during the Civil War, and liberated a continent during World War II. Our uniforms, equipment, and even our faces have changed over 230 years, but I took the same oath as men and women who have gladly sacrificed their own lives to protect freedom and their fellow soldiers. I answered the same call of duty to place my mission first and to serve with honor. I am still moved by the soldiers who have come before, and the soldiers I have the privilege of serving with every day. Deadeye Ready!

"Since the terrorist attacks of September 11th, US Army soldiers have participated in a determined and relentless campaign to defeat enemies who challenge our way of life."

The 96TH... Tradition & Transition

Tom Roby, President
96TH Infantry Division Deadeye Association

The 96TH Infantry Division reunion Association has almost fifty years of keeping the traditions of this Infantry Division alive, as well as maintaining an annual reunion to enjoy old and make new friendships. We have met every year at different locations around the country. Volunteers kept the records and did the organizational work. We had several thousand WWII veterans from the division on our mailing list.

In recent years, we developed a kinship with the successor organizations of the old Infantry Division which was deactivated. Various names were assigned by the Army to the Reserve Units and we now have a close relationship with the 96th Div. RRC.

The old guard of the reunion association has been phasing out that corporation in the past couple of years. We had our last official reunion in 2005 in the D.C. area and it was a huge success. Many of our RRC friends were in attendance.

We have formed a new corporate entity to help to perpetuate the legacy of the old Infantry Division and its WWII battles on Okinawa and Leyte. In addition, our mission statement is changing as we want to perpetuate the legacies of the many Reservists who have and are performing valiantly in the hot spots of the world today. One more responsibility is being added into our "raison d'etre," that of providing succor to the families of the active duty military in our midst.

The new corporate By-Laws provide for the inclusion of many factions in our eligibility list. First, all of the life members of the old organization and its auxiliary are automatically life members in the new organization. Family members of the original group are starting to join and to participate. Next, all members of the RRC and its predecessor organizations are invited to join. All family members of the RRC military are invited to come with us.

Finally, any member of the public may join.

A dues schedule has been adopted as recommended by Gen. Jim Collins and his membership committee and will be published soon. An annual meeting of the new organization will be held during the last full week of July in Denver, Co. Elections will be held for both Directors and Officers.

Efforts are being made to have our new organization organized under Utah laws to be non-profit and exempt from IRS involvement. To accomplish some of the PR things we would like to do will take cash and we would like to make it possible for contributions to be tax-deductible to the donors. We should know the outcome of our efforts soon.

So, the new Deadeye Association is up and running and we invite one and all to join with us in our quest for legacy perpetuation and military family assistance.

In addition to old-timers from the reunion association, the impetus and leadership for transforming into this wider membership-based organization was in a large part due to the promotional skills of Gen. Jim Collins.

Welcome To Denver!!

Located at the base of the Rocky Mountains, Denver is one of America's most beautiful cities. And one of the most fun. Blessed with 300 days of sunshine a year, Denver is a lively city with a great love of the outdoors. Here you'll find the nation's largest city park system, 90 golf courses and an incredible 650 miles of paved bike trails. But Denver is also a cultural and sophisticated city.

Downtown Denver

Denver, the site chosen for the 2006 96th Infantry Division Deadeye Association reunion, has the tenth largest downtown in the U.S. - a bustling area centered around a mile-long pedestrian promenade that is lined with outdoor cafes and flower baskets. The mountain panorama visible from Denver is 120 miles long. Downtown Denver is home to three sports stadiums, 300 restaurants, a restored historic district filled with 90 bars, a collection of museums, a variety of galleries and shopping, the second largest performing arts center in the nation, three college campuses and even a unique downtown amusement park, Six Flags Elitch Gardens.

Sports Town USA

Denver is one of only a few cities to offer seven professional sports teams: NFL Denver Broncos; Major League Baseball's Colorado Rockies; NHL Colorado Avalanche; NBA Denver Nuggets; Arena Football's Colorado Crush; Major League Soccer's Colorado Rapids; National Lacrosse League's Colorado Mammoth. In addition, Denver has horse racing, dog racing, a Grand Prix and rodeos.

Museums & Culture

Denver has one of the highest educated populations in America and a great love of the arts. The Denver Art Museum is in the process of doubling with a new wing. The Denver Performing Arts Complex is the second largest in the nation with ten theatres seating 10,000 people for theatre, symphony, opera and ballet.

In Denver, You Are Never Far From Nature

Denver has an amazing collection of museums devoted to the wonders of Planet Earth. The Denver Zoo is the fourth most popular zoo in the nation. The Downtown Aquarium will undergo major improvements, while the Denver Museum of Nature & Science just added a space museum and the world's most advanced digital planetarium.

Party Town

Denver brews more beer than any other city with 80 different beers brewed here. LoDo is Denver's hip downtown historic district where restored Victorian buildings now house more than 90 sports bars, brew pubs, jazz clubs and restaurants. Denver has some of the best concert venues on earth, including the famous Red Rocks Amphitheatre, a 9,000-seat arena carved out of gigantic red rock boulders.

*Deadeye Highway Coming to New York??NY Highway may be Renamed in Honor of 96TH

A couple of years ago, the former Association gave assent to Harry Merker to proceed on getting a portion of NY State Hwy #96 re-named to honor the 96th Inf. Div. Harry's brother, Sgt. Jacob L. Merker, 382nd Co. G. was a casualty on Okinawa. There was no money involved and Harry Merker has been pursuing the matter. Here is his most recent report:

"Since 2003, I have been working on renaming a portion of State Rt. 96 near Rochester, NY to honor the 96TH Infantry Division. As of right now, it is in the State Legislature in Albany, NY. It is a formality that requires a bill, and then be signed by New York's governor. Barring the unforeseen, that should happen anyday now and be signed by Gov. Pataki. A tentative formal ceremony date has been set for mid-September, 2006 in front of Finger Lakes Race Track in Farmington, NY."

This is a summary of the bill from the New York Legislature's web site: Designates a portion of the state highway system to be known as the "World War II Veterans - 96th Infantry Division of the United States Army Memorial Highway" from all that portion of state highway Route 96, beginning at the intersection of Route 332, heading east and ending at Hook Road in the town of Farmington."

If you are planning to attend the highway ceremony, contact Harry at givmlhm@msn.com and he will personally reply with complete info.

Club 96... Harry also would like to promote a "Club 96" to gather money for the Heritage Fund. He says: "Consider me the first volunteer for a group known as Club 96 that pledges to donate $96 for the Heritage Fund." For more information on the Heritage Fund, see page 8.

Lieutenant General Simon B. Buckner, Commanding General, Tenth Army, the highest ranking American officer to die in World War II.

General Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., graduated from West Point in 1908 and was commissioned in the Infantry. He served as an instructor at Fort Benning and at the Command and General Staff School from which he graduated in 1925 as a distinguished student. Later duties included service as an instructor, Assistant Commandant, and Commandant of West Point.

In the early days of World War II, General Buckner directed operations against Japanese forces on the Aleutian Islands and subsequently converted those islands into an invasion-proof stronghold.

In 1945, General Buckner was given command of the newly-formed Tenth U.S. Army and with it the task of invading and neutralizing Okinawa. During the fighting, he repeatedly exposed himself to danger by touring the frontlines to encourage his men.

Four days prior to the victory he sought, LTG Buckner was mortally wounded while directing his forces from an advanced observation post. He was the highest ranking officer to lose his life in the war. In 1954, Congress posthumously promoted him to the rank of General.

This photo isn't much of a picture, but it tells a story. My handwriting on the back identifies it as the members of Co. C - 382nd, who shipped out from San Francisco with the Division and were on Mindoro on VJ-Day. I count 35 soldiers in the photo. We were a full-strength company out of SF. It is a graphic example of the attrition of two battles.

Heritage Fund Appeal

The Board of Directors has decided to continue the Heritage Fund.

In the past, the Heritage Fund has been used to pay for 96th Infantry Division monuments, plaques, flags or Heritage Exhibits at the following locations: National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, Honolulu, HI (monument); Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington, VA (monument and memorial tree); National Museum of the Pacific War, Fredericksburg, TX (plaque); Douglas MacArthur Memorial, Norfolk, VA (division flag); Fort Douglas Military Museum, Salt Lake City, UT (Okinawa battle exhibit); Fort Douglas Headquarters Building, 96th RRC US Army Reserve (Leyte Battle Exhibit); Camp White Museum, White City, OR (96th Division Exhibit); Camp San Luis Obispo, San Luis Obispo, CA (96th Division Exhibit); Fort Lewis Military Museum, Fort Lewis, WA (Leyte and Okinawa Battle Exhibit).

It is the intent of the Deadeye Association to continue to establish exhibits and/or monuments which will help to preserve the heritage of units which have worn the Deadeye Double Diamond patch during World War II and since that time. This would include units who have served in Iraq or Afghanistan or in Desert Storm. Another possible effort could be the placing of a plaque or monument at the Infantry School at Fort Benning, GA. Another possibility is a monument or plaque at the 96th Regional Readiness Command Headquarters. This fund is being handled by John Reed and Don Dencker. Your contribution will be greatly appreciated.

Please make your check payable to:

The 96th Infantry Division Deadeye Association with the notation "Heritage Fund."
